Fenianism.
The "Irish Republic," notwithstanding the attempts made to prolong its existence by frantic appeals to the patriotism of its "citizens," appears to be about at its last gasp. It is true that Stephens, the great head-centre, is endeavoring to rally around him the army which discontents, inactivity and bad whisky have sadly reduced in numbers and efficiency; and it is not denied that "President" Roberts is as zealously engaged as ever in endeavoring to "fire the Irish heart," but their efforts are sadly crippled by the defection of General Sweeney and other military leaders, and by a general want of confidence in the insane movement expressed by Irishmen generally. Without money, and as contributions have almost ceased of late, there appears to be no danger of anything very alarming being again heard from them, except the Canadian Government were to hang all who may be convicted of having been found in arms on British territory. Each martyr would be worth at least half a million of dollars and one hundred thousand men to the Republic. Nothing would knit them closer together or insure another raid so effectively, as the execution of half-a-dozen of the graceless humbugs who are now on trial at Toronto, and no news would be more welcome to Stephens and Roberts than an announcement that the extreme penalty of the law had been inflicted upon their brethren. We are glad to know, however, that they will be disappointed. The Canadians have wisely refused to give the Fenians a martyr, and they must now rely upon the "gift of gab" to keep the machine running. The whole organization appears to have been a swindling operation from beginning to end. The leaders have drained many dollars from the pockets of their simple-minded countrymen in the United States under the pretext of freeing Ireland, but really with a design of enriching themselves. Not a poor hard-working laborer or mechanic but was compelled, under pain of being ostracised, to set apart a weekly sum from his earnings in aid of the cause; and even poor servant girls and washerwomen—some of whom had difficulty in supporting existence—were bamboozled into contributing toward the support of the Irish Republic. The total of monies thus received must have reached $2,000,000; and yet when the O'Mahoney faction resigned, only $1100 were found in the treasury. All the balance had been dissipated by the leaders, who had dined and dressed sumptuously, while their poor dupes had deprived themselves of the necessities of life in the hope that they were doing some good for their native land. Every dog is said to have his day, and Fenianism has had its day. On this coast the fever has almost entirely died out, and not a dollar is now being sent East to assist in the prosecution of the "war." The Irish people are terribly disgusted with the disposition made of their funds, and will contribute no more to a cause that depends for success on the characters that have mismanaged affairs, and who can hold out no hope of ever successfully attaining the promised end. The appeal of Mr. Seward for money was hardly necessary. The Fenians lately on trial had clearly forfeited their worthless lives, and while justice demanded that the extreme rigor of the law should be visited upon them, policy dictated the adoption of a more lenient course, and we therefore learn with some satisfaction that the convicts will have their sentences commuted to imprisonment for long terms, during which they will have ample opportunity to reflect on their past lives and to form new resolutions for their moral guidance in the future. With regard to the so-called citizens of the Irish Republic, there is a nice question involved. By adoption they are citizens of the United States, yet they do not hesitate to cast off their allegiance at a moment's notice, and swear allegiance to the provisional government of Ireland. As Irishmen they make war upon Great Britain, but the moment trouble meets them they claim to be American citizens and demand the protection of the Government from which they have just seceded. Having been beaten back by the Canadians they resume their political privileges in the United States as coolly as if they had never forfeited their right to do so.

Pope Pius the Ninth on the Situation.
The Journal de Bruxelles, of September 16th publishes the following as the text of an allocution pronounced by the Pope on the occasion of the canonization of Paul de la Croix, the founder of the Order of the Passionists. His Holiness said: "The Catholic religion is not unproductive and sterile, as all sects are. These, the works of human malice, can only produce evil; the Catholic religion, on the contrary, is the work of God, and the works of God produce the fruits of Eternal life. One of these fruits, Paul de la Croix, has just been gathered into the garden of virtue. You knew the good he did among the people by the holiness of his life and the fervor of his apostolic zeal. You know how, not content with that, he instituted a new religious family, which devoted itself to the assistance of his neighbor, to the extinction of vice, and to the propagation of virtue—a vocation eminently holy and useful to the Church and society. If the religious orders are so useful to the Church and society, how is it that men are so bitter against them and wish to destroy them? Ah! the motives of those feelings would take long to recapitulate; I shall, therefore, only mention three, in the first place, one of the motives (and I have heard it with my own ears) is that the governments should be sustained by atheistic laws, because, this principle once admitted, the natural consequences would be religious indifference and the satisfaction of all the passions. The impious are bitter against the religious orders and the ministers of the Church, because these preach by word and example a law quite opposed to theirs. Is it astonishing, then, that there should be implacable enmity between the son of the law of the atheist and the son of the law of Jesus Christ? The impious are at peace neither with themselves nor with others, nor with God, while the religious not only possess peace, but bear it everywhere, giving calm to men's consciences, appeasing irritated minds, and reconciling enemies. Thus the impious, unwilling to see others enjoying a blessing they themselves do not possess, hate and persecute the peaceful, as our Lord predicted. Finally, while the impious oppress the peoples, despise them of their goods, reduce them to misery, even deprive their souls of their spiritual nourishment, or seek to poison it, the religious and the priest distribute spiritual bread to the peoples by means of preaching, sacraments and good example, and thereby lead them to the happiness of their immortal souls. The impious, therefore, can the false friends of the people endure its true friends? The persecution is great, but let your constancy to counterbalance the efforts of the impious be as great. That is your mission. Pray that God may pardon the sins of persecutors and lead them to a salutary repentance; show yourselves in the eyes of all what you profess to be, so that your example may confound and humiliate the impious. May the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit, bless you, and in you, all your children, the Holy Father addressed himself respectfully to the ministers of the Church, and said: 'I know your enemies, not at all, deus pater, sed ex animo, sed ut latet in benedictione pacis.'"

Items by Mail.
The death is announced of Lord Northbrook (Baring) who was only a year or two from his majority.
The death is also announced of Mr. Charles MacLaren, late editor of the Scotsman.
New volumes of poetry from Longfellow and Whittier will appear during the coming season.
An American singer, who has had some success on the Italian scene New York—Madame Jennie van Zandt—is in Paris on the road to Warsaw, where she is engaged.
The marriage of Miss Cornelia Meyerbeer and Herr Richter, the celebrated pianist and professor at the School of Fine Arts, Berlin, was celebrated on the 27th August at Wiesbaden.
Mr. Boucicault's Lyceum drama, the "Long Strike" is now said to be a free adaptation of Mrs. Gaskell's novel "Mary Barton," and not Mr. Dickens's "Hard Times."

A SAYING.—John asked Julia if she would have him. "No," she said at once. "I'll not have you," but before John could recover from his surprise she archely put in, "But you may have me!"
NO CARDS.—A lady who is opposed to having whist played in her house all the time recently sent out invitations for a social party, and last there should be a mistake she added "No Cards."

From the 1st January, 1867, until further notice the age of candidates examined for direct commissions will be from 17 to 20 years for the infantry, from 17 to 25 years for the cavalry, and from 17 to 25 years for colonial corps.
A frightful railway accident is reported from North Wales. An excursion train was returning from Carnarvon to Port Madoc, when the engine and tender ran off the line, and a smash immediately took place among the passenger carriages. Five persons were killed and several injured.
A Panama Panorama.—A mode of getting a correct representation of an actual battle, landscape, &c., in a panorama form, has been suggested in Paris. The main feature of the arrangement is a revolving cylinder, with a vertical slit in it, through which the images enter, and are thrown on a photographic medium properly sensitized.
A Captain Blyth has discovered a system of telegraphic copying by shorthand, which saves from 50 to 70 per cent. of the time, and it ensures accuracy, so that it is not necessary for the clerks to understand the language in which the message is written, and yet they are certain to send it correctly. Moreover, the system is so simple that it can be explained practically in five minutes.

The Morning Advertiser believes that the Rev. Leicester Lyne, known as Father Ignatius, is to be ordained as a priest of the Church of England, the Primate and the Bishop of London having, it is reported, agreed to such a step, under certain conditions on the reverend Father's part. Mr. Lyne will, in all likelihood, continue his priestly labors in the poorer neighborhood of Shoreditch.
STOPPAGE OF THE WOLLOMUI MAIL.—Yesterday, soon after noon, the Wollomui mail-boy was stopped by Yellow Billy, at the Twenty-one Mile Pinch. The mail-boy, whose name is William Brennan, and who is only thirteen years old, states that Yellow Billy, whom he recognized from description, and who was armed with a gun, ordered him (Brennan) to ride into the bush with him. After riding together about half a mile from the road, the bushranger told the boy to throw the mail-bags on the ground, and to move on about ten or twelve yards. He then opened the bags, and sorted and opened the letters. The letters thus restored to Yellow Billy, and among them the lad thinks he burnt some cheques. The bushranger then ordered the lad to tie up the remainder of the letters and strap them on his saddle, and this done, Brennan was ordered to ride back again towards the road in front of Yellow Billy. When they reached the road the bushranger stopped the boy, and detained him there about half an hour, when he told him that there were not many people travelling on the road, and he might go. The lad then, with the letters thus restored to Yellow Billy, pursued his journey to Maitland without further interruption, and gave information to the police.—Australian Mercury.

AWFUL DISTRESS IN AUSTRALIA.—WOMEN AND CHILDREN COMPELLED TO WORK ON THE ROADS.—A large and very well attended meeting of unemployed was held in Brisbane on Monday, and it was resolved that a deputation wait on the Government to ask that the Brisbane and Ipswich Railway, or some other large public work be commenced immediately, so as to save the laboring men of the metropolis from starvation. It has been since arranged that as many men as please may engage on the roads on the following terms:—Men, rations and 3s. per week; wives, 6s. per week; children under fourteen years of age, 1s. 6d. per week. Men finding themselves with rations and lodgings—single men, 2s. per diem, 12s. per week; married men and wife, 2s. 6d. per diem, 15s. per week; each child under fourteen years of age, 1s. 6d. per week. Working time, wet and dry, eight hours per diem.—Queensland Times—A considerable number of men with wages have passed through Dalby during the week for unemployed. Many of them were recently employed on the railway, near Toowoomba; and their dismissal has rendered it necessary to seek employment on the stations, and we hope that they will be successful. The lambing season is now commencing, and the stations will be busy in the course of another fortnight. Shortly afterwards the shearing will commence, and although the new hands who have been sent to shift for themselves may not be so expert in that occupation as handling the pick and shovel, a little practice and perseverance will enable them to acquire themselves tolerably well. At all events, there is little likelihood of squatters complaining of the scarcity of labor for some time to come, although it may not be of the most suitable description. We have every reason to believe that even the large amount of labor available will be absorbed. Squatters who contemplate improving their runs by sinking wells or making dams, can now have their work executed at reasonable cost, and it is to be hoped that the opportunity will be extensively availed of. A large number of our countrymen have been induced to come out to this colony on the faith of their obtaining remunerative employment on the works to be carried on here. If the Government, through circumstances over which they have no control, cannot give them employment, these men are not in fault; they must seek it elsewhere in order to live. The squatters are not bound to support them, but it will only be a graceful act on their part if, having work to do—particularly of the description above mentioned—they contrive to take their work done at once, and make the sufferings of the immigrants less distressing and acute than they otherwise would be. On Monday last we observed two women, accompanied by their husbands and several young children, laboriously toiling on foot with heavy sacks strapped on their backs, going on the errand of seeking work to do for their subsistence. They have a peculiar claim to our sympathy, and we hope they will be fortunate in speedily obtaining employment.—Dalby Herald.

Auction Sales To-day.
J. P. DAVIES & CO., Wharf street, 11 a.m., will sell Grounds, Flour and Case Goods; also Household Furniture, and one span of Draught Horses.

A BAKER'S MILL.—Charles McClure and Fredk. Stocken were charged yesterday in the Police court with assaulting a fellow-traveller, named William Mowles, in the Miner's Saloon, Johnson street, on the evening of the Prince of Wales' birthday. Mr Courtney appeared for Mowles, Mr Bishop for the accused. Several witnesses were called, and it appeared that the parties and some friends were playing billiards together, all more or less "tight," except the prosecutor, when joking led to betting, betting to quarreling, and quarreling to fistfights, when bystanders intervened and the parties were separated. The cause of provocation on the part of McClure arose from the prosecutor stating that he had fed him and kept him from starvation. The assault was proved against both parties, and Mr Bishop pleaded guilty on behalf of Stocken, but alleged provocation, and asked that McClure be discharged. The accused were fined $10 each or two months' imprisonment.

A PITIFUL CASE.—A young man of respectable appearance and address, giving the name of Henry Norton, was charged yesterday in the police court with stealing a pair of blankets from Wm. Morrison. The complainant stated that he met Norton in the street, who said he had nowhere to sleep and he thereupon offered him a pair of blankets and shelter under his roof. The following day Norton sold the blankets to a klothechan for a dollar. Norton confessed his guilt, and with tears in his eyes stated that it was his first offence, and hunger alone had driven him to it. The magistrate spoke compassionately to the lad and remanded him for a couple of days to see what disposal could be made of him.

THE ST. LEGER AT DUNCASTER.—This great race was won by Lord Lyon, beating Savernake by a head, with Knight of the Crescent third. Lord Lyon has now achieved the triple feat of winning the Two Thousand, the Derby and the St. Leger, an extraordinary success hitherto attained only by West Australian in 1853, and Gladstone in 1865.
The honor of the "double event," the Derby and the St. Leger, often aimed at, but rarely achieved, has, besides the horses named, been gained by Champion in 1800; Surplice in 1848; Flying Dutchman in 1849; Voltigeur in 1850, and Blair Athol in 1864.
Twice, therefore, the St. Leger has been won three years in succession by Derby winners.

SEVERE GALES from the southeast and southwest have prevailed during the past three days, and several vessels have been prevented from putting to sea in consequence.
The month of November, 1861, was also distinguished for severe gales, during the prevalence of which several ships and many valuable lives were lost in the Straits, and was followed by an inclement winter in which snow lay on the ground for three months, and the Fraser was frozen from January until April. During that memorable winter nearly all the live stock on the island died for want of fodder, and the distress in the agricultural districts was heartrending.
We hope that we are not on the threshold of a similarly severe season.

THE ADMORSED INQUEST on the body of the murdered Indian was held yesterday. A white man was called who proved that the testimony given by the suspected klothechan was correct as to the time when she was last in the company of the deceased. All clue to the murder is thus lost, and the police are quite at sea as to the perpetrators of the foul deed; there seems to be little doubt, however, that it was the work of Indians who have left the place, probably carried out in one of their drunken orgies. The jury returned a verdict of wilful murder against some person or persons unknown.

A CATHEDRAL FOR HONOLULU.—The visit of Queen Emma to England has led to Mr.
Slater, the architect, receiving instructions to put in hand immediately the first portion of his design for a church which is to form the modest cathedral of the newest and smallest of national churches, and the monument of the late king, who was the founder of that church in his island kingdom. The style is English-Gothic of the early decorated period.
The cost of the part undertaken is a little over £5,000. It is hoped that the other £5-000 required will be speedily forthcoming.

GRAITING.—The Government Gazette states that the rearing of large crops in the interior, combined with the passage of Ordinance No. 18, 1865, exempting farm produce from road toll, has caused a diminution in the amount of revenue received as compared with the estimate for 1865, of £8,876. The revenue from land sales exceeds the estimate.
It is gratifying to notice that land and its produce figure in this manner. Owing to the pressure of other matter already in hand, we are unable, in this issue, to review the public accounts.—N. W. Examiner.

THE FIDELITY for Portland, and the Sir James Douglas, for New Westminster, were prevented from sailing yesterday owing to the high wind. The Douglas got underway, with Administrator Young on board, but it was deemed advisable to return to the wharf.
The Fidelity will sail at nine this morning, and the Douglas will start out the moment a fall occurs.

DEBATING CLASS.—The adjourned debate on "Manhood Suffrage" came off last evening. Mr Babbitt opened the debate in the affirmative, followed by Messrs Pitblow, Bell, Dally and Foll, for the negative, and Messrs McKay and Rennie, for the affirmative. The vote of the meeting being taken, it was decided in favor of the negative.

MARRIAGES IN HIGH LIFE.—The Misses Daly, daughters of Sir Dominick Daly, Governor of the Australian Colony of Adelaide, have recently been married; the eldest to John Souttar, Esq., late manager of the Sandhurst branch of the Oriental Bank; and the youngest to H. H. Tait, Esq., actuary to the Savings Bank of Adelaide.

DEATH OF MRS KENT.—The Salisbury Journal announces the death of Mrs Kent, stepmother of Constance Kent, and mother of the murdered boy. Mrs Kent died at Llangollen, North Wales, where Mr Kent has an appointment as Government Inspector of factories.

WHERE ARE THEY?—The Weekly Dispatch, speaking of the rates of passage to different parts, says in answer to an intended emigrant: "A man can get to Vancouver's Island for £35, because many passengers desire to go to the places named there is no general rate."

HERWOOD'S PORK SAUSAGE.—Elixer of Life—Mr Heywood of the Yorkshire Market has commenced for the season to make his Celebrated Pork Sausage, manufactured from the very best of Island feed pork. Every body buys them because they are good and only Twenty-Five Cents per pound.

CHOICE MILLINERY BY EXPRESS.—The new and elegant Show Room lately added to Victoria House, is now replete with the very latest novelties in Trimmed and Untrimmed Paris Bonnets, Hats, Shawls, Mantles and other fancy articles received yesterday by steamer from Europe.

REMOVAL.—Mr Digby Palmer has removed to Kane street, three doors below Mr Pawcett's residence, where he will continue giving instruction on the Piano Forte, and singing. Evening parties attended and Pianos tuned and repaired.

STILL DOWN.—The storm of yesterday kept the wires down, and we are still without dispatches of any kind. The operator at San Juan discovered a break in his section last night, but it was too dark to find the insulators.

NOTICE.—Mrs Digby Palmer begs to inform her pupils and the public that she intends holding her Dancing Class twice a week, Wednesday and Saturday evenings, from 8 to 11 o'clock, commencing on the 1st November next, at the Sign-Verein Hall Exchange Buildings, Government street.

GOVERNMENT HOUSE.—Invitations have been issued by Governor and Mrs Seymour for a ball at the Vancouver Government House to be held on the 11th of next month.

VICTORIA RIFLE CORPS.—Company drill—No. 1 Company, Monday at 8 p.m. No. 2 Company, Thursday at 8 p.m. Sword drill, Wednesday, at 8 p.m.—By order, J. Gordon Vinter, Lieut.-Adj.

A GOOD RETIRING SALARY.—The retiring allowance fixed by the British Government for the late Lord Chief Justice Levey of Ireland is £3,500 per annum.

THE BELL RINGERS will go to New Westminster to-day. We bespeak for them a generous support from our neighbors at the Capital.

MAXIMILIAN AND THE HOUSE OF HAP-SBURG.—Nations, as well as individuals, seem every now and then to undergo a certain "run of luck." Fortune, it may be, very seldom comes with both hands full; but to make up for her, her elder sister, certain wifings have it, presents herself not only with both hands, but with a lapful; as well as a small knapsack on her back, and pockets of unnumbered dimensions crammed even to bursting. Thus has she lately visited the house of Austria; and the story which Maximilian tells of Darius may come true in these days of the Kaiser. The Persian monarch bore his ill-fortune with a wonderful bravery.
He saw his army overthrown, his princes dethroned, his empire slain, his Royal Queens led away captive, his children in chains, and all this he bore with undoubted bravery, with dry eyes, and without the quivering of a muscle. When, last at a slave boy who had been about his palace and had borne him his cup passed by, he burst into tears.
Is it to be so with Austria, when to the defeated Kings and the dethroned Monarchs I spoke of some two weeks since, is added Maximilian, Emperor of Mexico, brother to the Kaiser? The empire has withered away, we are told, without so much as taking root.
The mission of the Empress to France has failed. Not a penny can the Emperor get from his new subjects, and the wildest filibuster with a few ragged ruffians under him can set his officers at defiance, and anticipate the Imperial revenue, a few miles, one might almost say, from the palace itself.
It is of no use struggling with fate.
The very stars fight against the House of Austria. Under such a storm Maximilian had better take shelter at home till the tide turns. Who knows what are on the cards?
Ill. News.

A LAWYER'S DEFENCE.—Among the traditions of Westminster Hall is one of a certain Sergeant Davy, who flourished some centuries back, in a darker age than the present.
He was accused, once upon a time, by his brethren of the coat of having degraded their order by taking from a client a fee in copper.
On being solemnly arraigned for his crime in the Common Hall. It appears, from the unwritten reports of the Court of Common Pleas, that he defended himself by the following plea of confession and avoidance; I fully admit that I took a fee from him in copper, and not only one, but several; and not only fees in copper, but fees in silver, but I pledge my honor as a sergeant, that I never took a single fee from him in silver until I got all his gold, and that I never took a single fee from him in copper until I had got all his silver; and you don't call that a degradation of our order?

THE EXAMINATION of 1,517 names in the records of a recruiting office for the British army elicited the following facts: Irishmen of the working classes, almost all Munster men, measured by Mr Hedder, averaged about 5 feet 7 inches in height, and 140 pounds in weight (naked). The Scotch recruits were about equal to those of Leinster and Munster in stature and weight, and exceeded in girth of chest both the English and the Irish, though the Welsh might equal them in that point. The Welsh recruits weighed heaviest, but their stature was considerably lower than that of the Irish. The English varied very much, but on the whole they did not quite equal even the Welsh in stature or the Irish in weight, which seemed mainly due to the low average of the recruits from the Metropolis and the manufacturing districts.

A PEACOCK STORY.—A Connecticut exchange says that, several months ago, a peac-cock, near one of the railroad stations on the Danbury and Norwalk road, which was sitting on the rail at the time the cars were measured by Mr Hedder, averaged about 5
feet 7 inches in height, and 140 pounds in weight (naked). As soon as he saw the extent of the damage he started for the woods and did not return until his tail had entirely grown out again.

on "Manhood Suffrage" came off last even-
ing. Mr Babbitt opened the debate in the affirmative, followed by Messrs Pitblow, Bell, Dally and Foll, for the negative, and Messrs
cided in favor of the negative.

AMERICAN ADVERTISERS.—The great advertisers in America seem to confine themselves to newspapers, they stamp their advertisements on the face of nature; so that not only the who read most read, but must read whether he likes or not. Every prominent rock, not only in the White Mountain district, but along the beautiful banks of the Hudson, and in every place where travelers most congregate, is carefully painted in large letters with the name of some specific or other—their names, persistently obtruding the "plantation bitters," and "sarsaparilla," a preparation for the teeth. If you stand by the Profile Mountain to gaze on the wonderful stone face, your eye is arrested by Drake's Plantation Bitters—"If you pause by the Echo Lake to listen, you are met by evaporation to 'Try the Sarsaparilla.' " And everywhere, "O, don't," wrote a wag underneath. The greatest hit in the advertising line was made by the proprietors of the former on the occasion of the celebration of Independence Day in Boston, when, as usual, there was a grand display of fireworks, and all Boston was there in force. The fireworks had just died away in darkness, when, in a moment, before the spectators had time to turn away their eyes, another shower of many-colored flames lighted up the sky, and in all the glory of fire leaped out the words, "Drake's Plantation Bitters!"— Fergusson's "America During and After the War."

THE FRIENDLY RELATIONS BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES AND RUSSIA.—The Debates of Paris says: "For some few days nothing has been talked about but the friendly sentiments exchanged between the high society of Russia and the American aristocracy, from the Czars. On both sides there have been cordial outpourings, and almost inconceivable transports of tenderness, which even borrowed their form of expression from the language of the Orient. 'I see before me,' exclaimed an American Commodore, 'the portrait of the grand sovereign; that portrait has been decked with flowers. May I never be caught else but flowers between Russia and America.' One of Moliere's Mammoth could not have said it better; but what in substance are these demonstrations really worth? We know not. Nevertheless, if we examine our own consciences, we shall be forced to admit that during the last few years we have not done enough to revive the old friendship which formerly united France and the United States, and that it is somewhat our own fault if that nation, only moderately flattered by our theories upon the expansion of the Latin races, seeks the alliance of Russia with so much eagerness."

FROM DORSET TO CALAIS.—Among the most wonderful and daring projects of the present day, is that of Mr Charles Boutet.
He not only promises a safe transit for our trains between Dorset and Calais, but provides on either side of his bridge an excellent carriage-road as well as footpath for pedestrians. There will be refreshment for the weary traveller, and boxes for the inspectors and attendants, and general facilities will serve as guides to manners.
The pontons or bays to support this giant bridge are to be placed at given distances: sixty-four cables to form the platform are to be made carried across singly, and afterwards interlaced together with wire rope. The band-chains thus produced will be 7 or 8 inches thick, and if necessary will be strengthened by similar band-chains placed vertically instead of horizontally. For the sum of £10,000,000, Mr Boutet promises to give us this magnificent bridge, which he says can be ready for traffic in five years' time.
This is an age of wonders, but if in five years we take our exercise on the Channel as we do now in Kotten-row, it will surpass all that has yet been accomplished.

MARRIAGE BY BANNS.—At last society has become wise enough to be married by banns—The only proper way—and to advertise the fact. At St. Mary's, by the Rev. Canon, "after banns." Really, as anybody can get married in a hagger-magger by license, and as the intention of the Church is fulfilled, the very seal of "respectability" placed on the ceremony by the open asking in full community, one wonders how Mrs Grundy could have so far subverted the taste of the world as to presume to it, to indulge in a special license. Did she fancy there was something in the word "special," or was it the fact that an insignificant number of shillings paid to somebody who has nothing to do with the matter and only cares for fingerling the money, imparted a holiness to the occasion; or does she like the mode because all divorced people indulge in it? Against the many virtues of plainness, simplicity and earnestness—which will remain long after the follies of Ritualism have died down, this return to banns is not the least.—Ill. News.
